May your writing be brief, frequent, low-stress, & highly rewarding on a project you enjoy. Inspired by Joli Jensen’s Write No Matter What

CSU Writes

write early. often. better. together.

OFFICE OF THE PROVOST
VICE PRESIDENT FOR RESEARCH

NEWSLETTER // AUGUST 2018
FOR CSU’S FACULTY, POSTDOC, GRADUATE STUDENT WRITERS

CSU Writes

As we sight the end of summer and look forward to the beginning of the FALL 2018 semester, we can was our way into successful semester of writing by remembering the 3 keys to writing productivity: schedule, log, be accountable.

These methods are simple, but powerful. These 3 Keys, according Robert Boice, Paul Silvia, Helen Sword and other scholarly writing experts, set the foundation for organizing, tracking, and maintaining our writing practice. When we schedule, we can anticipate next steps and make progress--little by little--on large projects. If we log our time, words, pages completed each session, we can see our writing in new ways. We can also reconsider current projects and assess future projects better with data about how we actually write. And, finally, if we are held accountable (not just by deadlines) but by others (writing group, productivity package, online support) who ask us about our progress, we are even more likely to meet our writing goals.

UPCOMING EVENTS

FACULTY Writes

1.5-Day Retreat--Late Summer
AUG 10-11 (Fri--3-5pm
Sat--8:30-4:30)

GRAD Writes

2-Day Retreat--Late Summer
AUG 13-14 (Mon--Tues--8:30-4:30)

show up & write.

aug 6 - 15

M/W
EDUC 1   8-10am
EDUC 1   10a-12pm
EDUC 105B 12-2pm
EDUC 105B 2-4pm

T/R
EDUC 1   8-10am
EDUC 1   10a-12pm
EDUC 105B 12-2pm
EDUC 105B 2-4pm

fall 2018: sept 4 - dec 6

FALL 2018 EVENTS
to be announced
August 13

csuwrites.colostate.edu
Summer Retreats

Pilot August for late-summer, pre-semester writing

Summer writing retreats for faculty, postdocs, and graduate students continue into August this year. The FACULTY Writes 1.5-Day Retreat runs August 10-11 on Friday (3-5pm) & all-day Saturday (8:30-4:30). The GRAD Writes 2-Day Retreat runs August 13-14 (8:30-4:30). Postdocs or visiting scholars may attend whichever retreat suits their schedule.

A popular request, this is the first time CSU Writes will offer an August retreat to support faculty and graduate students who wish to wrap up summer writing and get a jump start on their FALL 2018 projects.

Currently, there are still spaces available in the FACULTY Writes weekend retreat, but only a couple left in the GRAD Writes retreat.

You can apply to attend at: the CSU Writes Retreat webpage.

show up & write.

CALL FOR PROCTORS FALL 2018

sept 4 - dec 6

show up & write. is one of CSU Writes's most unique writing productivity offerings. Quite simply, it affords writers a place to write together for a couple of hours a day, Monday - Thursday starting the second week of the semester. Each show up & write. session is proctored by a graduate student, postdoc, or faculty volunteer who "shows up" so that other writers can join and write more together.

If you would like to proctor a session, on M/W or T/R (between 1.5 & 2 hours), contact Dr. Quynn and let her know your preferred times. You can either proctor sessions or sign up as an alternate substitute proctor! All welcome!

We can accommodate multiple schedules & locations. Email: csuwrites@colostate.edu.

APPLY FOR A CSU WRITES GRADUATE STUDENT INTERNSHIP

CSU Writes has two Graduate Student paid internships available for 2018-19. Each internship pays $1,000 for the academic year and requires three to five hours per week.

Applicants should have an interest in research/scholarly writing support, writing groups, or in higher education programming.

For an application or for more information email Dr. Quynn: quynn@colostate.edu

Applications Due: Sept 4, 2018